

JOYCE CUTS PEGGY OFF HIS WILL

Millionaire, on Stand, Admits Estate Will Get Wealth. Answers Her Charges.

CHICAGO, June 10.—J. Stanley Joyce, millionaire lumberman, was treated to a scathing arraignment of himself yesterday at a hearing on the petition of Peggy Hopkins Joyce, his $1,000,000 bride for $120,000 a year temporary alimony and $100,000 solicitors' fees. Weymouth Kirkland, Peggy's principal lawyer, raked him over the coals.

OPPOSES ALIMONY PLEA.

The $100,000 fee request was denied. Mr. Joyce is opposing the alimony plea on the grounds that he was made the victim of a gigantic conspiracy to rob him of his property, alleging that Peggy cost him $1,389,000 in fourteen months. Said Mr. Kirkland: "He was not the fool boy he would have the court believe. He was not a fool when he got her a home before they were married—to keep her away from her actress friends."

"How could he have been unphilosophical and unbusiness when Mr. Joyce swears that he had an affair with another woman before he married her?"

"It is easy to make charges against a woman. All one has to do is to put them in a divorce bill and the whole world believes them."

"Mr. Joyce charges this his wife met Henri Letellier, French journalist, without his knowledge, and that she had an affair with him. We intend proving by six or seven positions that he was present when they were introduced to each other."

APPEARS VERY UNHAPPY.

Mr. Joyce appeared to be very unhappy. Indeed, as he gazed out over the courtroom, he expressed his nervousness by polishing his heavily rimmed glasses and wiping his forehead with a large pocket handkerchief.

Mr. Joyce testified that he owns one-third of the capital stock of the W. T. Joyce Lumber Company, possessing a par value of $696,666.66. He was unable to recall what dividends the stock paid, although asserting that it is valued at $1,000,000.

He also said he owned one-fourth of the capital stock of the Trinity Lumber Co., capitalized at $500,000, adding that the stock is worth $375 a share. He also said he owns $300,000 in stock in the Joyce Lumber Co., a separate concern.

He listed his holdings as being $5,000 in the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., $60,000 in British government bonds, $100,000 in Victory bonds, $10,000 in bonds of the Argentine government, $10,000 in U. S. Rubber Co. bonds and $10,000 in bonds of the Gordon River Timber Co.

Mr. Kirkland asked why he deeded the $250,000 Miami home, Peggy's wedding present, to his brother. He answered, flustered:

"I didn't want to be robbed any more by Peggy. I deeded it to my brother to keep my wife from giving it to some third person."

Four expensive automobiles are a part of Mr. Joyce's "stable," according to his testimony. He said he owns a Locomobile valued at $8,000, a Stutz valued at $2,500, a Mercedes valued at $5,000, and a Simplex valued at $9,000.

He also owns an old homestead in the Berkshire hills, Conn., and a strip of woodland in Minnesota, valued at $500.

It was then brought out that he had yearned for the "simple life" after the hectic European honeymoon, and that he had intended taking his chorus girl bride into the North woods.

Mr. Kirkland questioned him about the use to which he intended to put the woodland tract. Mr. Joyce testified, in answer in a low voice: "I intended to use it as a camping place for us," he said.

Mr. Joyce testified that he now carries $400,000 in life insurance, for which he pays $67,000 a year.

"I changed the beneficiary from my wife when I found out that she was not a good woman. It is now payable to my estate."

Before taking the stand, Mr. Joyce exhibited his draft card, No. 1370, Division 8, which showed he had been placed in Class 3—deferred—because he was president of a firm supplying lumber to the Government.

The card was shown to refute Peggy's implied charge that he had been a "slacker" during the war.

Weymouth Kirkland introduced on Peggy's behalf a number of affidavits tending to substantiate his claim that her marriage to Joyce was legal. One was from Judge Bruce Young, of the Forty-eighth District Court of Texas, who swore to the statement that he had issued Peggy's decree of divorce January 21, 1920, two days before her third marriage, and had ordered that it be made a matter of record.

By International News Service.

Ex-Husband Is Unruffled.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Thomas McArdie, former husband of Mrs. Daniel Kaber, accused of the murder of her husband, wealthy publisher of Lakewood, Ohio, is not concerned with the fate of his former wife, he declared today.

McArdie was located at work on a farm, four miles from Tinley Park, a village on the outskirts of Chicago. "I know nothing about the case," McArdie said. "If Mrs. Kaber had any desire to win back my affections for her, as indicated by a so-called confession of a seers in Cleveland, she never had informed me of any such desire."

According to his accounts of the crime, but beyond them I know nothing. Why should I, with a wife and three youngsters, be bothering my mind about my former wife?"

By International News Service.

WORLD REVOLUTION

RIGA, June 10.—The Riga Rundschau prints the gist of a short speech said to have been made by Nikolai Lenin, at the close of the recent Communist congress held in Moscow.

According to this speech, Lenin said he had not lost hope in a world revolution, but had reached the point where he declared he could not predict one.

"RED GABLES" TO BE RESIDENCE OF COOLIDGE THIS SUMMER

"Red Gables," at Little's Point, Lynn, Mass., the beautiful summer home of Frank W. Stearns, prominent Boston merchant, where Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge will spend the summer months as the guests of Mr. Stearns. Attorney General

Daugherty has also rented a home for the summer near Lynn, and there is a possibility of other cabinet members spending their summer months at Swampscott.

KABER SLAIN BY SEER IN QUARREL, WIDOW CHARGES

(Continued from First Page.)

ed at her home in Cleveland this morning. This is the woman who is said to have been named as one of the slayers of Mrs. Kaber in the death plot. Prosecutor E. C. Stanton announced that she would be held in solitary confinement pending the arrival of Mrs. Kaber and her daughter.

Arrest of a second male suspect is expected to take place some time today. Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton declared that everything points to the early arrest of the other man, believed to have been the companion and accessory of "the man with a cap," accused by Daniel Kaber, wealthy publisher, with having stabbed him to death in his bed at his home in Lakewood, a Cleveland suburb.

Prosecutor Stanton, accompanied by Chief of Police Frank W. Smith and Detective Phil Mooney returned shortly before daylight this morning to the County Building after an unsuccessful trip after the "man," a hot tip of his whereabouts having proved erroneous, but police say that the net which has been spread for him is so complete that his capture is only a matter of hours.

ALLEGED POISONER HELD.

The Sandusky woman, arrested Wednesday morning after an automobile ride of seventy miles, is still held in solitary confinement at the county jail, and it is now doubtful whether she will be held until the stable here are in custody.

According to Prosecutor Stanton's theory, this woman was the one hired to administer the arsenic to the invalid publisher.

Preparations are going ahead today for the reception of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, believed to be the principal in the murder plot, and her daughter, Marian McArdie, indicted with her when they are brought back from New York.

HOME OF NOTED CASSIE.

The cell in the county jail which was the home of Cassie Chadwick, who victimized bankers in Ohio and Pennsylvania out of hundreds of thousands of dollars some twenty years ago, is being prepared for the reception of the principals in the case.

While it is said to be the most comfortable cell in the jail, being large and airy and well furnished, it has not recently been occupied.

In view of the two reported attempts of Mrs. Kaber to commit suicide in New York, she will be under the eye of a guard during the entire time of her incarceration, and her every movement will be closely watched, Prosecutor Stanton stated.

FORTUNE TELLER SPEAKS.

Mrs. Mary Brickel, the third figure in the strange triangle, involving mother, daughter, and grand-mother in the plot to kill Kaber, is still in the county jail, efforts of her husband and son to raise the bond, which had been reduced to $5,000, having failed.

"I have met another man. I love him. I want you to kill Dan Kaber."

"I want you to kill him—kill him in some way. It doesn't matter how," the card was shown to refute Peggy's implied charge that he had been a "slacker" during the war.

Weymouth Kirkland introduced on Peggy's behalf a number of affidavits tending to substantiate his claim that her marriage to Joyce was legal. One was from Judge Bruce Young, of the Forty-eighth District Court of Texas, who swore to the statement that he had issued Peggy's decree of divorce January 21, 1920, two days before her third marriage, and had ordered that it be made a matter of record.

By International News Service.

Ex-Husband Is Unruffled.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Thomas McArdie, former husband of Mrs. Daniel Kaber, accused of the murder of her husband, wealthy publisher of Lakewood, Ohio, is not concerned with the fate of his former wife, he declared today.

McArdie was located at work on a farm, four miles from Tinley Park, a village on the outskirts of Chicago. "I know nothing about the case," McArdie said. "If Mrs. Kaber had any desire to win back my affections for her, as indicated by a so-called confession of a seers in Cleveland, she never had informed me of any such desire."

According to his accounts of the crime, but beyond them I know nothing. Why should I, with a wife and three youngsters, be bothering my mind about my former wife?"

By International News Service.

WORLD REVOLUTION

RIGA, June 10.—The Riga Rundschau prints the gist of a short speech said to have been made by Nikolai Lenin, at the close of the recent Communist congress held in Moscow.

According to this speech, Lenin said he had not lost hope in a world revolution, but had reached the point where he declared he could not predict one.

Paris Is So Expensive Yanks Rush Back To U. S. A.

PARIS, June 10.—As a result of the enormously increased prices for living accommodations and amusements and the new "visitors' tax" of six francs daily Americans arriving recently for the summer season are besieging the steamship companies for reservations homeward.

Many of them will not even wait for the Grand Prix on June 26, which is the culminating event of the Paris grand season.

Instances of abuse are simply pouring into the American embassy here, where disappointed tourists are standing in line for passport visas to enable them to leave France.

FRANK KIDD SAYS GOMPERS IS DONE AS LABOR LEADER

(Continued from First Page.)

is out of harmony with American labor, on two vital issues—total restriction of immigration and sympathy with the aspirations of Ireland. He is a notable example of the benevolent flow to unfortunate foreigners who are privileged to flee from lands of oppression to this land of enlightened liberty and equality before the law.

"Had the law now advocates been the law from the time he was a boy, he never could have been an officer of an American trade union."

OWES MUCH TO IRISH.

"His silent voice and idle hand in the cause of Ireland is as painful as it is inexplicable. All he is, or can hope to be, is due in a large measure to the loyalty of Irish workingmen and to the individual efforts of a large number of capable Irishmen who preferred his advancement over their own."

"I do not impugn his motives, but I would welcome an explanation of why the solemn resolves of the Federation of Labor are not as binding upon the president as they are supposed to be upon the rank and file."

Mr. Kidd, who is now with the Ways and Means Committee in the House of Representatives, said that the sorry spectacle of Gompers trying to deflect the labor vote to Democracy at the last election and the pitiful result was a "sore" spot that would better be forgotten.

Big Labor Union to Repudiate Gompers' Policy on Soviet and Ireland.

By MILDRED MORRIS.

DENVER, Col., June 10.—Samuel Gompers' leadership will be at stake at the coming convention of the American Federation of Labor even though no effort is made to oust him.

Growing opposition to the veteran leader is now the vanguard of delegates to the convention increased.

The best predictions now are that he will be re-elected but that the opposition will center its fight on efforts to administer a stinging setback to his leadership by repudiating the executive council's policies on Soviet Russia and relations with European labor for which he is declared responsible.

Announcement by W. L. Hutchison, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, which controls the second largest voting strength in the federation, that he will vote for any good man who runs against Sam Gompers, was regarded as significant in view of the reports that the carpenters' delegates will support John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, if the latter runs against Gompers.

Timothy Healy, president of the International Union of Officers and Stationary Firemen, which is classified as one of the railroad unions, declared today:

"We are going into the convention hot for a finish fight on the Irish question and the council's stand on Russia and relations with European labor."

PIGEON GOES SHOPPING WITH JERSEY WOMAN

FLEMINGTON, N. J., June 10.—As Mrs. Peter Markee was on her way to a store, a short time ago, she was overtaken by her pet pigeon, which accompanied her on the rest of a long shopping tour. Now, when Mrs. Markee starts on her errands, the pigeon goes along. While the woman is in the store, the bird remains outside, uncomplainingly.

The pigeon is white, and is thirteen years old.

MEXICO DECLINES TO MEET TERMS FOR RECOGNITION

U. S. Demands Would Require Government to Change Constitution, Say Officials.

By International News Service.

MEXICO CITY, June 10.—Mexico refuses to accept clauses No. 2 and No. 3 of the American State Department's conditions for Mexican recognition, because they call for revision of article 37 of the Mexican constitution, it was learned from unofficial sources today.

The Mexican government, it was said, would refuse to accept any clause which interferes with the right of Mexico to make her own laws. It was pointed out, however, that Mexico will give assurance to Washington that no law enacted in this country shall be retroactive.

Mexican officials do not believe that the present obstacles are insurmountable. They declare that the exchanges which have been going forward between this city and Washington are "to clear the atmosphere, exchange ideas and determine the position of some of the Mexican laws."

The suggestion in the memorandum forwarded by Secretary of State Hughes through George T. Summerlin, the American charge d'affaires, that Mexico appoint a commission to study and arrange claims for damages incurred in past revolutions has been accepted by President Obregon. The President will name the commission in the next few days. This idea had previously been advanced here during the administration of the late President Carranza, but was never put into effect.

It was announced, however, that the commission will not meet until the Obregon government has been recognized by the United States.

Elmer Dover, Republican political leader in the United States and personal friend of President Harding, who has been conferring with President Obregon, said today that the Mexican President does not consider the situation grave.

VISITED OBREGON.

Mr. Dover said he visited the President at Chapultepec Castle and the two spent several hours playing billiards together and chatting.

Mr. Dover is a great admirer of the Mexican President and his personal recognition is that Obregon is entitled to recognition. He said when he got back to Washington he would call at the White House and tell President Harding all about President Obregon's good qualities. Mr. Dover states that he is in Mexico City upon purely business matter, but the rumor has been current from time to time that he was authorized to act as go-between.

White House Officially Denies Elmer Dover Is Envoy of Harding.

International News Service.

Elmer Dover, a prominent Republican and friend of President Harding, who is reported in Mexico City dispatches to have been holding conversations with President Obregon, is not on any Government mission, it was officially stated at the White House today.

Dover has not been authorized to approach Obregon or any other Mexican officials on matters pertaining to the pending relations between the United States and Mexico, it was stated.

"There are no Colonel Houses in this administration," it was stated at the White House.

It is understood by officials here that Dover is in Mexico on personal business.

It is expected that the Mexican situation will be taken up in its entirety by the Cabinet at today's session.

The State Department is expected to reach an early decision on the question of whether the latest action of President Obregon in levying a 25 per cent increase in petroleum exports constitutes an infringement of the rights of American oil producers.

Representatives here of oil companies with large interests in Mexico regard the situation as exceedingly grave. They point out that under a nominal tax of 10 per cent they are actually paying an assessment of from 25 to 40 per cent, and they assert that on one grade of oil they will pay nearly 80 per cent tax under the new decree.

They not only believe the new tax unconstitutional in that it lays it on the President invoked his "extraordinary powers" without the consent of Congress, but they also see in the announcement that the tax is levied to divide public opinion in the United States.

$150,000 DISPOSED OF BY FOUR WILLS FILED FOR PROBATE

James D. Maher Leaves $53,000—Thompson Property Valued at $72,000.

Four wills disposing of property totaling about $150,000 were filed yesterday for probate in the District Supreme Court.

The estate of James D. Maher, clerk of the United States Supreme Court, is estimated at $53,000. Miss Sarah M. Maher, sister of the testator, is the sole beneficiary.

Valuation of the estate of Henry C. Thompson, who died May 21, is placed at $71,890.57, according to the petition for probate filed by the widow, Mrs. Josephine K. Thompson. More than half of the estate is personal property.

The sum of $1,000 is left to Emma L. Leach by her brother, Dr. James L. Leach, who died on May 25. Dr. Suddarth leaves his medical library, his office furniture, horse, buggy and harness to Dr. William G. Suter. To his namesake, Thomas Suddarth Suter, son of John P. Suter, Dr. Suddarth leaves each $500 in trust with the Washington Loan and Trust Company until they reach the age of twenty-one.

Howard Carville Fisher, who died April 6, left an estate valued at $12,628.44. The estate includes the Fisher home at 3021 O street, valued at $7,500, and the rest in personal property.

ALIENS NOW IN U. S. PORTS ADMITTED BY RULING

The Department of Labor today decided to admit under a nominal bond for a period of thirty days all immigrants who arrived on ships that sailed before the new immigration law went into effect or upon ships whose operators were in ignorance of the quotas that would be established for various nationalities. These immigrants, if they successfully pass the immigration requirements, will be admitted permanently and charged to the July quotas.

In announcing the ruling of the department Assistant Secretary Henning said that the situation in New York, Boston and other ports was serious, owing to the large influx of aliens who came on crowded ships which were unable to make port before the new immigration law went into effect.

PUT "FLO" OVER IN DEAL.

Mrs. Stillman's lawyers look upon Mrs. Glidden as a vitally important witness. They plan to quiz her before the referee along the following lines:

First: As to her intimate knowledge of the relationship between Mr. Stillman and Mrs. Leeds.

Second: As to her knowledge of the movements of "Jimmy's" girl since early last March when America's most notorious divorce case first came to public notice.

Third: As to whether or not $1,000 was given to her (Mrs. Glidden) within the past eight weeks "to get out of New York and stay out."

Mrs. Glidden, a real "woman of friends."

MYSTERY AUNT OF FLO LEEDS FOUND BY FIF'S AGENTS

Mrs. Glidden, Professional Stage Relative, Refuses to "Peach" on Girl She "Put Across."

NEW YORK, June 10.—Mrs. Fannie M. Glidden, long advertised as the aunt of Mrs. Florence Lawlor Leeds, was found today by investigators for Mrs. James A. Stillman.

They located her in a tiny four-room rear apartment in West 184th street.

They reported that she was seeking to evade service of a subpoena for her appearance before Referee Gleason in Poughkeepsie next Wednesday at the resumption of the hearings in the Stillman case.

For months representatives of Mrs. Stillman have been combing the country for the stout, prematurely gray woman publicly known as the aunt of "Flo" Leeds, the former chorus girl named as correspondent-in-chief in Mrs. Stillman's affirmative defense.

The climax of the long search brought a new surprise. It revealed that Mrs. Glidden was only a professional "aunt" of Mrs. Leeds.

It was established that there is no blood relationship between them—only a financial one.

Mrs. Stillman's lawyers look upon Mrs. Glidden as a vitally important witness. They plan to quiz her before the referee along the following lines:

First: As to her intimate knowledge of the relationship between Mr. Stillman and Mrs. Leeds.

QUARREL WITH "FLO."

"I don't care two beans for Flo Leeds and Jimmy Stillman. I haven't seen Flo for months. We quarreled and apparently she forgot all I did for her. But I won't be a traitor for anything on earth. Perhaps that's why I was only given $1,000 two months ago when they sent me out of town and I went to visit my sister, who's married to a minister out near Indianapolis."

"I thought this Stillman mess was all over. That's why I came back to New York. Now I may have to scoot away again—my, isn't it fierce on a girl who likes the big city?"

Although surrounded by a cordon of process servers, the jovial, happy-go-lucky "stage aunt" of Flo Leeds refused to surrender. She would say nothing to representatives of Mrs. Stillman, although she had previously told the whole story of her association with Stillman and Mrs. Leeds to

Bergdoll To Marry In Attempt To Recoup Losses

GROVER C. BERGDOLL.

mystery" in the Stillman case, slipped back into New York within the past fortnight, and found refuge in the little apartment on the northern borders of Washington Heights. She told friends:

"I don't care two beans for Flo Leeds and Jimmy Stillman. I haven't seen Flo for months. We quarreled and apparently she forgot all I did for her. But I won't be a traitor for anything on earth. Perhaps that's why I was only given $1,000 two months ago when they sent me out of town and I went to visit my sister, who's married to a minister out near Indianapolis."

QUARREL WITH "FLO."

"I don't care two beans for Flo Leeds and Jimmy Stillman. I haven't seen Flo for months. We quarreled and apparently she forgot all I did for her. But I won't be a traitor for anything on earth. Perhaps that's why I was only given $1,000 two months ago when they sent me out of town and I went to visit my sister, who's married to a minister out near Indianapolis."

"I thought this Stillman mess was all over. That's why I came back to New York. Now I may have to scoot away again—my, isn't it fierce on a girl who likes the big city?"

Although surrounded by a cordon of process servers, the jovial, happy-go-lucky "stage aunt" of Flo Leeds refused to surrender. She would say nothing to representatives of Mrs. Stillman, although she had previously told the whole story of her association with Stillman and Mrs. Leeds to

BERGDOLL TO WED AND SUE U. S. IN NAME OF BRIDE

Arch-Slacker Wires to Berlin of His Approaching Marriage.

By International News Service.

BERLIN, June 10.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, rich American draft-dodger, whose property in the United States was recently seized by the American Government, sent word from Eberbach, Baden, today that he will soon be married, and that his wife will bring suit for restoration of the property.

Bergdoll sent the following telegram voluntarily to the Berlin bureau of the International News Service:

"Thousands of Americans were in Germany today with the enemy, long before I arrived in this country. Why did not the United States seize their property? I did not trade with the enemy. All the money I have spent in Germany was for absolute necessities of life. I will be married shortly, and my wife will bring suit in the United States for the restoration of my property in that country. The action of the United States Government in seizing my property was illegal."

BERGDOLL TO WED AND SUE U. S. IN NAME OF BRIDE

Arch-Slacker Wires to Berlin of His Approaching Marriage.

By International News Service.

BERLIN, June 10.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, rich American draft-dodger, whose property in the United States was recently seized by the American Government, sent word from Eberbach, Baden, today that he will soon be married, and that his wife will bring suit for restoration of the property.

RESINOL

Is so pure and healing, so free from harsh ingredients, it is a standard household remedy for burns, cuts, wounds, boils, blisters, cold sores, chafings, stings, etc.

RESINOL SOAP

Is ideal for the skin and hair. Ask your druggist for these products.

Our Downtown Store—414 9th St.—and Pa. Ave. Stores Open Saturday Nights.

"Tri-Wear" Oxfords

All styles now repriced

$7.85

TRIWEAR